
Newest Sculpture By H· Harvey

Shown in the photos above is the figurine of John D.L.F. Patteson, 2nd Lieutenant, Co. B, 46th Regiment, 1862-64, recently sculptured by Mrs. Hazel Harvey of Appomattox. Also shown are boxes of note paper and plates with charcoal sketches of Patteson and of the 18th Century "Historical Patteson Place" (Rosebower) in Appomattox County located on the old Richmond Road - Lee's Retreat, drawn by Mrs. Harvey. The house has dual stairways, two underground chambers and other antique features of that time period.

It all began when Victor L. Patteson of Houston, Texas visited here in 1972 searching for relatives and records to help him complete the genealogy of his paternal and maternal heritage. He had been unsuccessful in locating the old homeplace and cemetery and his vacation was limited. Then he was referred to Mrs. Hazel Harvey who has helped many strangers in locating relatives and old homes and cemeteries throughout the years.

Mrs. Havey located the "Patteson Place" known as Rosebower, now owned by L. H. Watson of Route 24, Appomattox. She then made some charcoal sketches of the old home and of Lt. Patteson, grandfather of Victor L. Patteson, and he was very interested in her work and asked that she do charcoal sketch for him. As the result of this request, Mrs. Harvey produced the sketch on plates and on note paper as it appears above. Patteson saw some of the sculptured figurines Mrs. Harvey had made of Confederate soldiers and wanted one of his grandfather so he furnished a picture of the Lt. Patteson and from that she made the figurine, an excellent likeness of the Civil War veteran.

And speaking of relatives - at least three local people are related to that family. They are Mrs. Lougenia Patteson Doss, Mrs. Gladys Patteson Johnson and Mrs. Earle Patteson Robinson.
